SUMMER 2, WEEK 4

Head of School Message

I know we shouldn't complain when we have lovely weather, but there's hot and then there's this week! That being said, we have taken the warm weather in our stride, adapting our school day and activities to stay cool and comfortable - Mr Mitchell has even gone all 'Handy Andy' on us and made makeshift shade shelters on the field!

On Wednesday, children in KS2 enjoyed our very own Careers Fair. We were delighted to host and be joined by a Pest Controller, a member of RAF personnel, a Merlin helicopter pilot, a PCSO, a nurse, a GP and an ocean photographer, who all took time out of their busy days to speak to the children about their roles and responsibilities and inspire the next generation. The buzz around the room, the enthusiasm and the questions the children had for our visitors were incredible. A huge thank you to everyone who presented, to the staff team and to Mr Salway from Manaccan for being the mastermind behind the event. We are hoping to run this every year, but even bigger and better! If you would be interested in sharing your job role with the children, please do let us know.

I was delighted to join Leggan Class for their sailing session this week; what better way to cool down that jumping in the Helford river?! It was a privilege to witness first hand just how much the children's confidence and team work has developed over the course of their sessions, and hearing them talk so passionately about what sailing as taught them - beyond the obvious sailing specific skills - reminded me of what an incredible opportunity this is. We are so grateful to the Children's Sailing Trust and the fundraising that is done behind the scenes to make sailing possible for our children year on year.

Our whole-school beach trip today was a brilliant way to end the week. With rock-pooling, geographical observations of coastal erosion and sketches taking place, it was a perfect example of how every child in our school is united in their learning by the beautiful part of the world we live in. A HUGE thank you to all of the parents/carers who transported children, to those who volunteered to help, and of course, to our brilliant staff team for all of their hard work in making trips like this possible.

Have a lovely weekend.

Learning of the Week

We were absolutely thrilled to be joined by Will Keating this week. He held a shanty singing workshop with the children, learning some of our most treasured Cornish songs, and we were delighted to share these with parents/carers at the end of the day. Thank you to those of you who were able to join us. We hope you enjoyed it as much as we did!
